

NCMD CONDITIONS OF INDIVIDUAL AND ASSOCIATE MEMBERSHIP
Online Payments

1. Individual and Associate members who submit their payments online agree to have read and abide by these terms and conditions.
2. Applicants must be free from conviction for any offence relating to metal detecting activities, must have no such legal cases pending against them at the time of application, and shall not have been expelled from or refused membership of any NCMD affiliated club or other recognised metal detecting organisation, for activities which could bring that body or hobby into disrepute.
3. Individual and Associate membership are granted on a yearly basis, renewable at the discretion of the NCMD, to individuals who fulfil the required criteria and pay the annual subscription at the current rate. There is no facility for family or discounted membership
4. Individual and Associate members will agree to adhere to the constitution of the NCMD abide by the decisions of the Council, and observe its code of conduct at all times.
5. Individual and Associate members will enjoy all the privileges offered to individual members of affiliated clubs, except that representation at general meetings of the NCMD will be through the Individual and Associate member secretariat, who will be appointed by the general committee. Individual and Associate members do not have voting powers at NCMD meetings, but may attend meetings to observe or petition the officers and committee at an agreed time following advance notice in writing.
6. Individual and Associate members will not commit the NCMD to any financial, legal or political undertaking without the express permission of the general committee in writing.
7. The committee of the NCMD retain the right to expel, suspend or reprimand any members who do not conduct themselves within the terms of these conditions. The NCMD reserves the right to demand return of all membership and insurance cards, issued by it to Individual and Associate members, which remain the property of the NCMD at all times.
8. The NCMD reserve the right to refuse membership to any individual, at any time, without the need to give reason for that refusal.